

Divorce Cases Mentioned in Hendricks County, Indiana
Court Order Books
(1824-1900)

Indexed by
Meredith Thompson, 2013
Avon, Indiana

AUTHOR'S NOTES:

This is an index of the divorce cases that were mentioned in the Hendricks County Circuit Court order books volumes 1 through 45 (which cover 1824 to 1900) as well as the Hendricks County Court of Common Pleas order books volumes 1 through 9 (which cover 1853 to 1873). These order books have been digitized and are available online via the Archives section of the Hendricks County government's website (<http://www.co.hendricks.in.us>).

This index does NOT contain all the information that was included in the order books about the divorce case. You should look in the order book for the entry/entries about the divorce case, as it will have the date of the court action as well as provide details about the court action (such as: temporary alimony; a restraining order issued; a cross-complaint filed; a notice of non-residency of the defendant having been published 3 times in an Indiana newspaper). If a divorce was granted, that particular entry will also mention the names of any children and who custody is awarded to. Also, be aware that there were usually multiple entries for a divorce case, so it may appear multiple times in that order book - and even in the order books prior to the entry that is listed in this index.

Once you have gleaned all the details from the order books, then you can contact the Hendricks County Clerk's Microfilm Department to request a search for information on the divorce case. The Microfilm Department is located on the ground floor of the Hendricks County courthouse in Danville, Indiana and can be reached by phone at (317) 745-9800. NOTE: It is not known if the "loose papers" of the divorce cases before 1900 survived. However, even if no loose papers are available, courthouse staff may still be able to provide additional information by looking for information in the fee books and judgment books.
