The first known record of a Robert Hensley (According to the State Archives in Richmond Va.) was of a Robert Hensley who was brought over from England in 1654 by the Sharpe family. He settled in Lancaster Co. Va.

At the time he was brought over America was a wilderness and people lived only near the seashore and perhaps a little way along the rivers; the Indians occupied the rest of the country.

As more people came over and the children grew up they gradually moved westward and cleared the land for farms and plantations

The first group of Hensleys moved westward into North and South Carolina and into the Mts. and Valleys of Va.

The Mts. with its rich timber furnished lumber and protection and the valleys with plenty of water and rich soil.

The Indians had to be pushed back foot by foot and mile by mile and many of the early Hensley settlers were famous Indian fighters along with many others of the Hensley Clan.

The central point seemingly of the Hensley movement was in Va. Washington and Scott Co along with some others surrounding them. The area around Gate City, Bristol, Hiltons and Kingsport (Tenn) being the center of Hensley activity. The city of Gate City was the seemingly first County seat of Hensley records.

Among the many early settlers in this area were; Samuel, George, Joseph, Robert Fielding, James, John and William. All had sons and thus named their sons after a brothers name so, there were many Samuels, James, John and Williams and so on.

One of these early settlers was Fielding Hensley who was my G.G. Grandfather

There are several other original Hensley Log Cabins, some of which have been built on to but are still standing with some still being lived in.

It is not complete, much is missing but, this is all that is known at the p resent time, however, it is the hope of this writer that someday it might be.

It is the hope of this writer that the complete Hensley genealogy of all Hensleys might be complete

Is it only a dream? or will many others take up the challenge?
