Plainfield Community Pep Rally

Kicking off the regular football season was a Plainfield Community Pep Rally sponsored by WalMart. To begin the warm August 30th evening, Mr. Scott Waymire, WalMart manager, presented a check for $500 to Principal R. Dale Jackson for student projects. The evening proceeded with a number of activities, relay races and competitions. Pie eating, tug of war, water balloon toss, blindfolded cake decorating, hula hoop, and squirt gun races were just several of the events enjoyed by an appreciative crowd of football well wishers. Mr. Dave Teany and Mr. Howard Conley took on the responsibility of hosting the event and judging the contests.

Entertaining and Exciting

New Construction Specs

Expressing frustration over what appears to be a sophomore float problem are Shelly Wingler, Cher Gallagher and Laura Schaible.

Homecoming week featured some changes. The Student Council, in response to numerous requests, made some changes in the homecoming float building process. Decisions were made about the amount of money each class could designate to its float. The number of work hours was decreased since the size of the floats was reduced. For the first time floats were put on the backs of pick up trucks.

Classes chose float ideas to exemplify the wild, wild West theme. Freshmen entered their first float, "Spur on the Quakers," while the sophomores created, "Run and Shoot to a Victory." The juniors took top honors with "Boot Out the Pioneers;" the seniors entry was "Round 'Em Up and Burn 'Em."

Change Homecoming Floats

Features Wild West Theme

A fired up Red Pride team prepares for Mooresville.

The wild, wild West was the theme for homecoming. Activities during the week included spirit week with college day, twin day, neon day and red and blue day. Team members worked hard to prepare for Friday's game. Friday's pep session featured games and the introduction of the candidates and their escorts.

The rain stopped briefly for both the parade and halftime. Bree Harbin and Stacy Wubbolding represented the freshmen class along with princess Kerri Sims. The sophomores selected Janeen Taylor from a trio including Ryan Dodds and Cher Gallagher. Junior princess Heather Kelly was chosen from a group including Angie Freije and Lori Walland. The senior class nominated Kendra Fulford and Amber Groninger, as well as queen Alex Barile.

Another winner for the night was the class of 92 with their float entry, Boot Out the Pioneers. The team's 14-0 victory over Mooresville led to the annual dance in the cafeteria.

Freshmen & Juniors Victorious

Above: Celebrating the first of what they hope are many powderpuff victories are the freshmen with quarterback Kerri Sims rising above the crowd.

The annual, yet dangerous, tradition of storming the senior powderpuff king follows the announcement of Ethan Hooper's name.

The annual powderpuff game, as usual, fell on a very cold and damp night, October 22, 1990. The activities included a freshman victory over the class of 93 by a score of 6-0. The second challenge resulted in a senior defeat by the juniors with the final score 20-6.

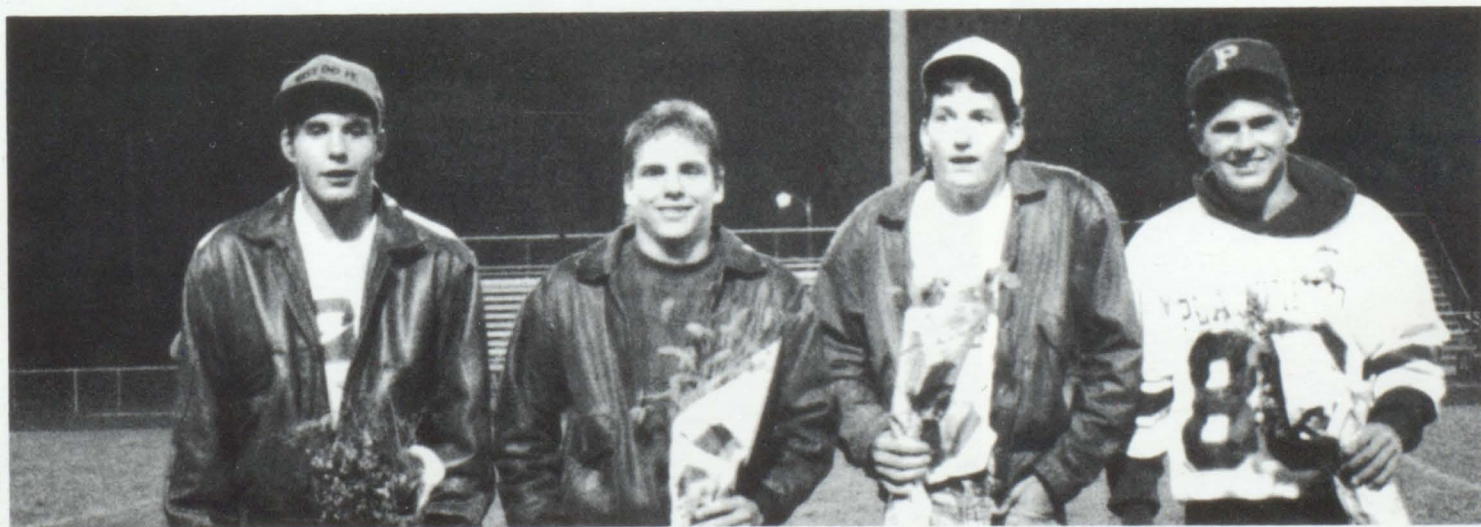

Halftime activities included the "crowning" of freshman Jimmy Holsclaw, sophomore Jeremy Rydell, junior Brad Ferrell and senior Ethan Hooper. Other candidates included Michael Mason and Tony Schneider, freshmen; sophomores Jake Firkins and Chad Masterson; Chad Briggs and Bobby Roberts, juniors; and seniors Clint Newlin and Ernie Spradley.

Chosen by their classmates to serve as powderpuff royalty are Jimmy Holsclaw, Jeremy Rydell, Brad Ferrell, and Ethan Hooper.

Last Minute Announcement

Several "in cognito" students, alias Honor Society members, pose briefly before visiting the elementaries to distribute candy and discuss Halloween safety tips.

Outside Mrs. Jackson's classroom, junior English students Dia Daniel, Mike Hartley, Lucy Bednarek, Kathy McGary, Tiffany Summers, Andrea Goss, April Hacker, and Heather Kelly postpone classwork by striking a pose.

Senior Kim Lynch clowns around in the halls attired in baggy bibs, a clown white face and a big red nose. Adorned in curlers, senior Vicki Stephenson stands next to the "unknown" comic, senior Clint Newlin. Using Halloween as a history lesson, hippie Mr. Chris Cavanaugh explains the 60's through the messages on his numerous buttons.

Crayon Stacey Winters appears decked in a sea green wrapper. Sporting the noisiest costume with the newspaper stuffing, Miss Massariu's pumpkin body is accented with pumpkin socks and earrings. To dance in the hallways, belly dancers Heather Kelly and Ginny Maxson are appropriately attired.

Brings Out Variety of Costumes

On Tuesday, October 30, at 2:43 P.M., Mr. Strauss' announcement that Halloween attire was acceptable for the next day seemed like short notice. But students and teachers alike did their "homework" that night and came to school the next day in a variety of costumes. Everyone enjoyed the October 31st diversion from the daily routine. The traditional gory mask and make-up jobs were just the beginning of costumes which included army fatigues, rockers, robbers, pirates, politicians, celebrities, superheroes, and storybook characters.

Numerous Visitors at PHS

Experiencing PHS life first hand for the 90-91 school year are exchange students Teresa Gorostiza, Birgit Herrmann, Bela Bisom, and Takao Murayama.

Even Santa Latta pays a visit to PHS for a chat with day care student Adam Effinger.

Faculty, staff and students aren't the only people roaming the halls of Plainfield High School. Visitors are seen in the building almost every day for a number of purposes. Some are there for a brief few moments, or a class period, or a day, or even for the entire school year. This year's visitors included about 40 guest speakers for career day on December 4, 1990. For the first time career day was for students in grades 9-12 and career information was provided for a wide variety of careers. Other visitors included Junior Achievement advisers, guest speakers, school board members, parent volunteers and foreign exchange students. These guests, along with others, learned from their experiences here, as students and teachers learned from them.

On open house night, board member Chris Shore looks over the program with Student Council "guides" Ryan Schafhauser and Ben Friedman.

Above: Parent volunteer Mrs. Rita Goss hands a coke to Chad Jones on the first day of ISTEP when all students received a free pizza and coke as a result of last year's scores. Below: On career day, Plainfield's Teacher of the Year, Mrs. Pat Lilly, discusses the pros and cons of her job.

In the auditorium with a group of students to discuss piloting is Mr. Darrell Jaggers.

Make a Difference for Students

The Marsh Computers for Education program brings managers Kirk Moyes and Larry Reynolds to school to present money for the computers to Mr. Jackson and Miss Lawrence.

Local realtor Mrs. Jo Mead chats with Mr. Chuck Muston between career day sessions on December 4, 1990.

Christmas Spirit

Providing some traditional decorating for the student body are Student Council members Jennifer Overholtz, Heather Smith, Jason Hammond, sponsor Ms. Carpenter, Ryan Schafhauser, Lucy Bednarek, Beth Reynolds, and Heather Kelly.

"Don't open until December 25th" doesn't seem to stop Mr. Jackson and Santa Teany.

Right: Bearing gifts to some families in need of assistance are Student Council members Bobby Western, Beth Reynolds, and Heather Kelly. Below: A snowman is only one window decoration by Bonnie Mahoney.

Pat Dages and Jamie Sparks tell Santa what's on their Christmas lists in hopes that their good behavior has been noted.

Prevails at P.H.S.

The Christmas season brought a large number of activities to the school. The number of field trips rose dramatically as clubs and classes found Christmas related activities. The language clubs shared Christmas dinner at various restaurants throughout the city. Musical groups caroled and performed. The members of Student Council used funds to do some Christmas shopping for families in need of some help; FCA sponsored a canned food drive to help needy families. Decorations, including those provided by art students, appeared everywhere. Even students' apparel changed to match the season with Christmas decorated sweatshirts appearing. More red and green clothes appeared, as well as a few bells.

The food bank becomes a little richer through FCA donations being sorted here by members Lucy Bednarek, Todd Biggerstaff, Andy Watts and Josh Watts.

Pep Session Activities

Taking charge of choosing and organizing the games, as well as getting participants and judges is cheerleader sponsor Miss Masariu.

Every teachers' "fantasy," taking pot shots at their students, is fulfilled when Mr. Dave Teany mans the tennis ball return.

Pep sessions were a little more frequent in 1990-1991. And even though pep sessions were held for major football and basketball events, all sports teams were recognized for their achievements and season records. Introducing teams and coaches, as well as cheers and competitive chants led by the cheerleading squad, were a part of each rally, but so were the games. Relay races with all kinds of competition dominated the activities. Three legged races, bouncing balloons off the head, pyramids, jump rope, three point shots, free throws and dodge ball were just a few of the many activities enjoyed by the participants and spectators alike. More students participated after all members of all classes were asked to volunteer if they wanted to participate.

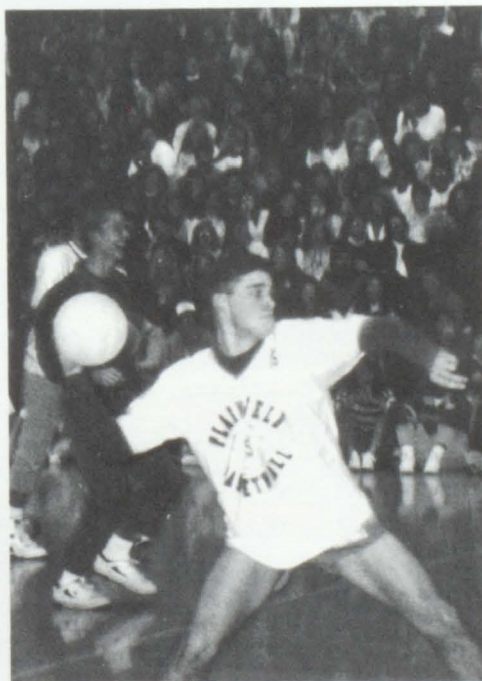

Left: From atop a cafeteria table, Jake Firkins tries to drop miniature marshmallows into the mouth of Dave Gibbs while Kathy Wright and Kari Miller line up for their turns as Chad Masterson looks on. Right: To keep the balloon in the air using only his head is Danny Knauss' task.

Entertain Audience and Players

Left: Kari Miller leaps over the rope in the last leg of the relay race. Center: Taking aim on a faculty member on the opposing dodge ball team is senior Bobby Western. Right: To hop the length of the basketball floor without dropping the two balloons occupies Tony Schneider's undivided attention.

Latest Fads and Fashions

The Indianapolis Ice hockey team, or at least their clothes, take on a new popularity in the student body as shown by Steve Ferguson.

This is the 90's! Fads and fashions are fleeting. What's popular today may not be tomorrow. But some things hang on. Students maintained their long standing relationship with brand name tennis shoes. In the meantime, their parents cringed over the cost. Still popular was the brand name IOU, the sweater, jacket, and especially sweatshirt company. The SKIDZ brand name was the newcomer. Also contemporary was the Desert Storm support; these logos replaced concert, college and Guess t-shirts and sweatshirts.

Non-clothing fads focused on the theaters. Movies 8 became very popular with $1.50 movies. The box office also brought several characters to the screen and into American culture. The Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles and Dick Tracy both became very popular with kids, teens, and even adults.

First Winter Homecoming Has

The male and female "funniest people" from each class as selected by their classmates are Josh Epling, Angie O'Neal, Kathy Wright, Bret Teany, Darla Dierkes, Ernie Spradley, and Jeff Fine.

The German Club float entry is "Sometimes You Got to Break the Woodmen."

The first winter homecoming was held on Friday, February 1, 1991, in conjunction with the game against Greenwood. The theme focused around fast food restaurants. Halftime festivities featured the introduction of three male and three female candidates from each class for the "funniest person" award. The float entries, built on little red children's wagons, were brought onto the floor. The sophomores won the float competition from a field of five entries, one from each class and one from the German Club. The funniest people winners received wacky sunglasses and cardboard crowns before the second half of play resumed. The Quakers defeated the Woodmen by a narrow margin, 57-54.

Floats & Funny People

The story of Grease dealt with typical teen problems. A difference in backgrounds, friends and values came between two teens, Sandy and Danny, who thought they were in love. The 50's upbeat music and the classic theme produced a sold out show for the production. Leads were performed by Jessica Appleget, Alex Barile, Mike Hartley, Parke Lucas and Natalie Lyons. Mr. Sims worked with Mr. Van Paris, Mrs. Schneider and Mrs. Murphy on this production.

Standing Room Only

Annual Star Pride Revue

Left: The Ultimate Dance Posse, whose members are Tiffany Summers, Katie Hall and Andrea Goss dance to the second place award. Center: Jonn Thompson is only one member of the group PRS POSSE whose rap music won first place. Right: And So It Goes is the song performed by Melissa Combs.

Right: Duo Michelle Newby and JoDee Williams perform The Reason We Sing as their competitive entry for the show.

Showcase Outstanding Talent

Third place prize winner Mark Swearingen performs on his drum set.

On Thursday, February 21 at 7:00 P.M., the curtain went up on the third annual Star Pride Revue. This program was designed to present to the public the talent of PHS students and faculty. Auditions were held by Mrs. Pamela Murphy, and for the sake of the show's length, some acts were turned away, but the remaining ten acts demonstrated a great deal of talent. Several teachers formed a rock group to perform to "adoring groupies." Prizes were awarded this year. First place honors went to PRS Posse whose members are Alex Barile, Amy Barile, Heath Helgason, Jamie Owens and Jonn Thompson. The dance trio of Andrea Goss, Katie Hall and Tiffiny Summers was presented in second place, and the drum solo by Mark Swearingen caught the judges's attention for third.

Red, White and Black Balloons

Donning tuxedos for their senior prom are Robin Smith and Denise Hemphill.

The largest crowd in a number of years joined the fun for the 1991 prom, Hold Onto the Night. The new location for this year was the Murat Shrine on New Jersey Street in Indianapolis. The music was provided by DJ Danny Masariu, and the prom committee called on Mr. Balloon Man to assist with decorations. Prom goers entered the room past tuxedoed balloon sentries. A large red, black and white balloon bridge was the focus of the room. White tablecloths were accented with red and black napkins along with red mylar centerpieces and red and black mylar confetti. Upon leaving the prom, each guest received a photo keychain and a clear goblet on a black stem with the theme lettered in red.

Right center: A unique variety of shuffleboard is attempted by Chris Garner. Right: To get a hole in one is the goal of miniature golfer Crystal Edwards.

Rock Around the Clock

When the prom festivities concluded, prom goes and non-prom goes alike headed for the gym to see what transitions the junior and senior parents made. Under the watchful eye of Mrs. Fay Ann Hammond, the parent committee created a 50's playland with a Rock Around the Clock theme. The parking lot was filled with 50's automobiles. Going up the ramp, large clocks decorated the brick wall. Going into the east gym, students passed the prizes, many donated by area merchants. The casino was decorated with pink and black streamers, for a colorful ceiling. The west gym featured a large parachute suspended from the ceiling with a six foot Quaker man clock suspended in the center. Juke boxes, old cars and pink and black balloons completed the decorations. Games of all kinds were featured.

First Quaker Leadership Camp

Forty-nine students in grades 9, 10, and 11, along with several faculty members, gather for a group picture at the Trafalgar campground.

The first annual Quaker Leadership Camp was held at the FFA Leadership Center in Trafalgar, Indiana, on May 4th and 5th. The camp involved forty-nine students who were selected by the faculty.

Students arrived at camp early Saturday morning and began an intensive two day workshop about leadership skills. Activities dealing with leadership skills included value sharing, the meaning of leadership, communication skills, leadership styles, conflict resolution and problem solving. Students were divided into teams to work through the various activities. There was also time for fun. There were frisbee relays, a team chant contest, tower building competition, jump rope contest and an old fashioned campfire complete with "s'mores" to round out the week-end's activities.

The camp, paid for by the Indiana School Incentive Awards Program, was facilitated this first year by Brownsburg High School Assistant Principal Bill Jensen. Serving as camp counselors were Miss Carpenter, Mr. Jackson, Miss Masariu, Miss Moreland, Mr. Peters, Mr. Schnepf, Mr. Strauss and Mrs. Thompson. The camp offered students an opportunity to learn not only about others, but about themselves, too. Students discovered they shared many views and ideas concerning topics such as school pride, school discipline, and personal values. The purpose of the camp was for students to become involved in school; as positive leaders they can exercise many of the skills they learned at camp.

PHS Presents Harvey

Right: Receiving opening night makeup courtesy of Kim Trammell is Tiffany Scalzitti, who plays Veta. Below: Elwood, portrayed by Clint Newlin, reveals the marvels of his six and a half foot invisible rabbit friend Harvey to Dr. Chumley, played by Jon Graf.

Anxiously awaiting Elwood's prognosis are his niece Myrtle Mae (Trish Sherven), Judge Gagney (Kirk Oakley), and Dr. Sanderson (Bobby Western).

Jeff Fine, as the orderly Wilson, and Stacy Leach, as Nurse Kelly, try to make Veta (Tiffany Scalzitti) as comfortable as possible on her first visit to Chumley's Rest.

Friday, May 3, and Saturday, May 4, were the dates for the annual spring play. This year's presentation was the play Harvey, a tale of a man and his imaginary six foot rabbit friend.

Elwood, played by senior Clint Newlin, has an imaginary friend named Harvey. Harvey is a six foot rabbit, but to make matters more interesting, Harvey is invisible. A number of plots run throughout the play, but the main story line deals with Elwood's sister, Veta, played by senior Tiffany Scalzitti. Veta believes Elwood is crazy and tries her best to have him institutionalized, but in her efforts almost finds herself committed. A subplot deals with the home Elwood and Veta, along with her family, live in, which was left to Elwood by their parents.

Along with the two leads, other parts include seniors Trish Sherven as Veta's daughter, Myrtle Mae; Dr. Sanderson, played by Bobby Western; and Jenny Hughes, who played a cab driver. The juniors performing in the play were Katie Hall as Mrs. Chauvenet and Kirk Oakley as the judge. Three sophomores, Jon Graf as Dr. Chumley, Jeff Fine as Wilson and Meredith Fillmore as Mrs. Chumley, added to the cast. Stacy Leach, freshman, played the role of Ruth Kelly.

Mrs. Pam Murphy was the director of the production. She was assisted by a number of auditorium crew members who manned curtains and lights and props and other necessities.

Awards Night Honors Seniors

Left: Mr. R. Dale Jackson, principal, welcomes the seniors along with their families and friends. Right: Mrs. Beth Ann Leach presents the first annual Damon Leach scholarship in memory of her son to Mark Galloway.

On Wednesday, May 29, 1991, many members of the senior class, along with their families and friends, gathered in the auditorium for senior awards. The two hour program began at 7:00 P.M. and featured academic and athletic awards, some honorary and some monetary.

Mr. R. Dale Jackson began the program with some reflections on the class of 1991. Departmental awards followed with numerous athletic awards followed by business, English, fine arts, language, math, science, and social studies awards. Perfect attendance awards went to Andrew Hammond and Ben Sipes for their senior year. The senior class officers were presented dictionaries, followed by the traditional passing of the gavel from the current senior class president to next year's senior president. After Ethan Hooper delivered the gavel to Ryan Schafhauser, a short senior slide show was presented.

Many honorary awards followed, including Boys' State delegates and valedictorian, Melayna Fillmore, and salutatorian, Becky Miles. The twelve students who comprise the top 5% of the class received medals, and gold cords were presented to the twenty-one Honor Society members. Thirty-five Indiana academic honors diploma recipients were honored as well as thirty-two presidential academic fitness award winners. The outstanding health occupations student, Cher Scott, was presented a plaque from Ben Davis. Tony Jordan received both a letter of commendation from the National Merit Scholarship and a certificate of merit from Indiana University. Purdue University presented certificates of Recognition to Heath Helgason, Andy Hylton, John Nease and Jamie Owens. Melayna Fillmore and Craig Gummer received the American Legion's outstanding girl and boy awards while Angie Kalb and John Nease were the choices for U.S. Army Reserve's Scholar/Athlete medallions.

The remainder of the evening included numerous scholarship presentations from schools, as well as local sororities and businesses.

Todd Biggerstaff, one of five persons to receive this award, receives the ten point blanket from Mr. Charlie Muston of the athletic department.

Upon the recommendation of the athletic council, this year's outstanding senior athletes are Jenny Hughes and Mark Galloway; they receive their awards from Mr. Charlie Muston.

Long Awaited Moment Arrives

Sunday, June 2, 1991 — the day the seniors have anticipated for twelve years. This was the ninety-first PHS graduation, but it was the only one that mattered for 235 graduates. The ceremony began at 2:00 P.M. in the football stadium with the processional of Pomp and Circumstance. The invocation was presented by Reverend John C. Parsley of the First Baptist Church. Becky Miles' salutatory address was followed by the high school band playing Friends. Melayna Fillmore delivered the valedictory address preceding the combined choirs' rendition of From a Distance. Remarks by retiring superintendent Dr. Milo L. Eiche were followed by Mr. R. Dale Jackson's presentation of the class. Diplomas were distributed by Mrs. Pam J. Hall. Senior class president Ethan Hooper directed the class in the turning of their tassels. Silly string and confetti were the senior response. Reverend Parsley's benediction was followed by the recessional to the cafeteria where caps and gowns were returned and diplomas were distributed amidst shouts of joy.

Silly string and confetti appear out of nowhere and go everywhere as seniors realize their school days at PHS are complete.

The girls' swim team concluded with a 10-2 record. The girls swam well, accumulating over 100 points on six different occasions. The team's MVP was junior Jana Smith. Other awards were presented to mental attitude winner Trish Sherven and four year awards were presented to Deanna Lindley and Amy Rogers.

Highlights for the season included three second place ratings in tourneys — conference, county and sectionals. In Mid-State competition, first place awards went to Debbie Webster for 100 meter freestyle; the 200 meter and 400 meter freestyle teams also took firsts. After setting several new records throughout the season, the 200 meter freestyle team of Kelley Bowman, Heather Kelly, Kerri Sims, and Debbie Webster set a sectional record of 1:50.89.

The season started strong with a 4-1 victory over Beech Grove, followed by a defeat by Franklin, and then the team bounced back to defeat Northwest by a narrow 3-2 margin. A four match slump lengthened the season for Coach Pat Cavanaugh's team.

In tournament play, the team placed third in the county with a loss to Brownsburg 0-5 and a victory over Danville 3-2. At Mid-State, the team lost in the first round. During sectional play the team defeated Ritter 5-0 but lost to Ben Davis by the same score.

The team, which included fourteen members with no seniors, completed the season with an 8-10 record. MVP Greg Shaffer and mental attitude winner Ryan Schafhauser provided strong team leadership.

Seniors Heather Clapp and Kendra Fulford scramble to the floor in an attempt to save a point.

The reserve volleyball team concluded with a 17-4 overall record. Coach Shawna Edwards' team went down to Scecina, Martinsville, Avon and Beech Grove.

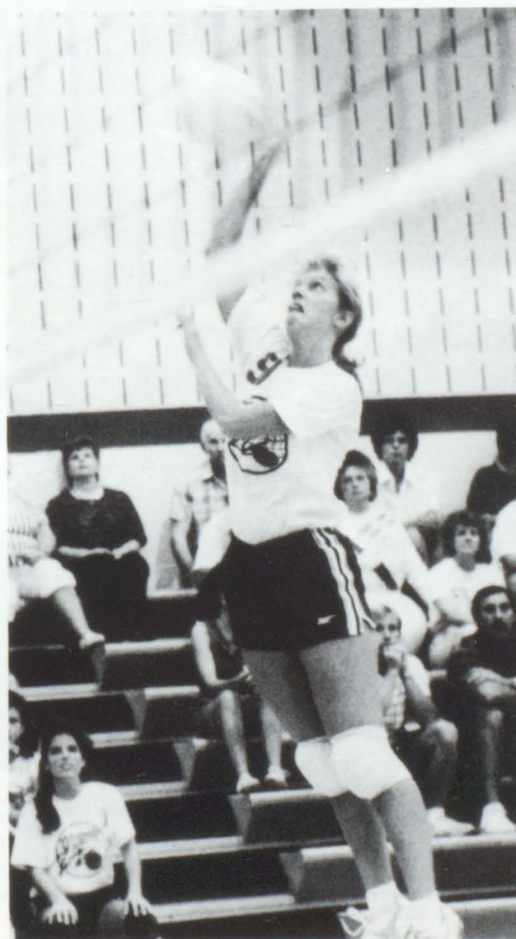

Varsity volleyball ended 20-9. After seven opening victories, the girls went to the county tourney. The first match against Cascade gave Plainfield victories of 15-8 and 15-4. The second round of the county tourney saw the PHS squad fall to Danville with scores of 8-15 and 5-15. The girls were on and off, never losing two matches consecutively. When sectional play began, the Quakers won two only to fall to second ranked Martinsville in the final game. Mental attitude tribute went to Heather Clapp. All conference awards went to Kathy McGary and Angie Kalb, who was also the MVP and a member of the Indianapolis Star All Metro second team.

Right: As Avon defenders come from all directions, Jason Stewart runs downfield for some much needed yardage.

The freshman season started slowly. The young Quaker team fell to Danville and Greenwood, scoring only once in each contest. Strong wins over Franklin, Whiteland, and Mooresville proved the team could score as they accumulated 82 points in the three games while allowing only 32 points to the three opponents. A defeat by Avon led to a 3-3 record for first year coaches Mr. Ken Schnepf and Mr. Curt VanWanzele.

The reserve team fared well with an overall 5-2 season. Coaches Mike Meunier and Chuck Muston found their team in some tight contests. The season began with a victory over Danville, followed by a 3 point victory over Greenwood. After a loss to Franklin, the team defeated Whiteland, Mooresville, and Avon. Each of these victories was exciting, but the margin of victory narrowed each game, beating Avon by only 1 point. The season concluded with a 2-10 loss to Southport.

The pre-game school song rouses the enthusiasm of the Red Pride.

Starting early in August, the Quaker team worked long and hard and hot hours to pull together a strong team effort. Despite the team's efforts and those of Coach Chuck Schwanekamp and his four man staff, the season ended with a 3-6 record. The three victories came mid-season over Franklin, Whiteland and a homecoming win over Mooresville. Sectional play was cut short with a first round loss to Noblesville 6-35 before a home crowd. The team was led by offensive MVP Mark Galloway and defensive MVP Jason Mead. The team contributed strongly to the all conference team with six Quakers selected. As well as the two MVP's, Jeff Ebarb, Jeff Hartman, Brian Moore and Mike Shrake represented the school. Ebarb was also selected to the Indianapolis Star's All Suburban team.

First year coach Mrs. Susan Ament led both the boys' and girls' cross country teams to .500 seasons. The girls pulled together for three wins matched by three losses. Junior Beth Reynolds was the team's MVP while sophomore Kristi Edmondson was the choice for the mental attitude award. The girls took fourth place finishes in county, Mid-State and sectional competition with a ninth place finish at regionals.

Four year runners Todd Biggerstaff, Andy Hylton and Kyle Lansberry led the boys to a 7-7 season. Todd Biggerstaff also received the mental attitude award. Junior Chris Ragan was the MVP award recipient. The Mid-State finish was fourth; county and sectional tournaments brought second place finishes. The boys placed ninth at regionals.

Reserves Win in First Season

In its first season, the reserve soccer team finished with a 7-3-1 season. Coach Mike McFarling's team played their games at Hummel Park. The season started strong with three wins followed by a tie and a brief two game slump. The season concluded on a positive note with two consecutive victories.

The third season for varsity soccer brought in an 8-10-1 record. Coach Chris Sweeney's team was led by mental attitude award recipient Curt Gummer and MVP Larry Alexander. In the county competition the Quakers were defeated by Brownsburg but won against Danville 3-2. In post season tourney play, the team defeated Edgewood 3-1 but lost to Bloomington South 1-4.

Having no seniors on their team, the gymnasts pulled from within to complete their season with a strong 8-1 finish. Early in the season the girls competed in the Valpariso Invitational, placing third behind the first and fourth ranked teams in the state. Their only defeat, a 3.2 point loss, came mid season to a strong North Central team. Led by Jill Helphinstine, mental attitude winner, and co MVP's Erin Greene and Kristi Edmondson, the girls placed 5th in the sectionals. Highlights of the year included a new school record of 101.45 points. Sending two girls to state competition was also a proud moment for coaches Mrs. Bev Rink and Miss Diana Simpson. Placing in regionals and moving on to state competition were Erin Greene for all around and Kristi Edmondson in the uneven bars.

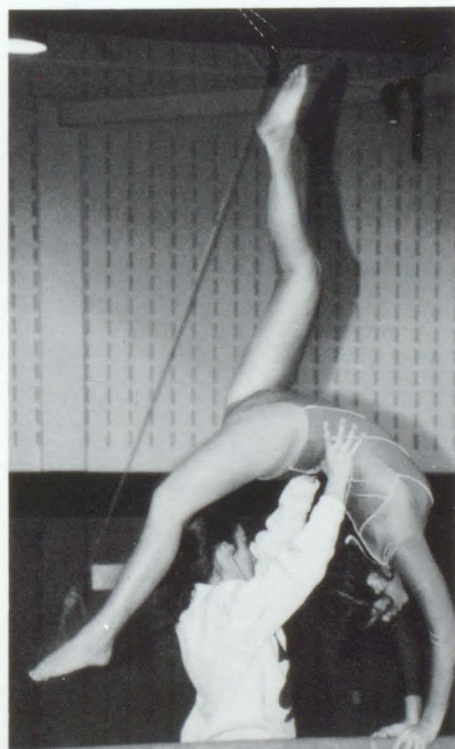

As the meet is about to get underway, Quaker gymnasts gather to cheer on the vaulters.

County Championship

The Quakers established three wrestling teams this season. Coaches Mike and Vince Meunier led the freshmen to a 2-5 regular season. The reserve team captured fifth place in Mid-State competition and ended 3-4.

The varsity ended 11-8. The Quakers won the county meet for the third consecutive year. All thirteen wrestlers placed with David Burcham, Joel Hand, Brian Moore and Mark Schober taking individual titles. At Mid-State, the team placed fourth with Brian Moore winning the 160 pound weight class. The Quakers placed fifth in sectionals, with Chad Briggs moving on to regionals. The team was led by co-captains David Burcham, who was also the mental attitude winner, and Brian Moore, who was also the MVP and the wrestler with the most take downs. Bobby Williams was recognized for having the most pins.

Strong Senior Leadership

The Quaker swimmers, coached by Mr. Dave Teany and Mr. Chris Cavanaugh, had an outstanding season with a 10-5 record. Six consecutive wins began the season before the wins and losses began to alternate. The team finished strong in the regular season with a 107-78 win over Decatur Central and a 108-77 victory over Tri-West. Tourney competition gave the Quakers a fourth place in the county meet with Tony Jordan winning the 100 meter backstroke and Kyle Lansberry taking the 100 meter breast stroke. In Mid-State action the Quakers took third, but senior Tony Jordan was the backstroke champion with a new school record of 59:13. The season concluded with a sixth place sectional finish. Team captains were Tony Jordan and Kyle Lansberry. Jordan also won MVP honors while Todd Biggerstaff was the appointed mental attitude award winner.

Against the Tri-West Bruins, MVP Tiffany Summers looks for a teammate under the basket.

Lined up for an inbound pass, Stacy Leach, Amy Nolan and Jennifer Cooper anticipate the throw in.

To get past her opponent, Krissy Holden sets her expression and dribbles to the inside.

Miss Beth Ann Masariu's reserve team completed an 11-4 season with a predominantly freshman squad. The team fell to Brownsburg by only one point in the county tourney.

The varsity girls concluded their season with a 13-7 record. Coach Bob Lynn's team started with four consecutive wins before falling to Franklin and Brownsburg by the same score of 44-55. Victories over Speedway and Cascade led to the county tourney where the girls defeated Cascade but fell to Brownsburg. Four more victories and three more losses brought the team to sectionals. Sectional victories against Tri-West and Avon brought the Lady Quakers against Brownsburg for the third time, only to lose by a score of 43-64. All county honors were awarded to Krissy Holden, Alana Looker, Kathy McGary and MVP Tiffany Summers. Team captains were Krissy Holden; Jenny Hughes, who also had the most assists and received Academic State honorable mention; and Kathy McGary, who made the all conference team. Alana Looker received the mental attitude award.

Reserves Have Great Season

Reserve Boys' Basketball. Front: Roger Flick, Jimmy Holsclaw, Dan Krieger, Erik Robinson, Tony Frazier. Back: Chris Hummel, Josh Hodge, Keith Friend, Eli Welch, Joe Whisler, Jason Pearman.

Freshman coach Mr. Pat Cavanaugh found his two teams provided a full season. The A team competed sixteen times, coming away with six victories. The B team completed a .500 season with the win and loss columns each listing four games.

Coach Clapp's reserve team completed a great season with sixteen wins and only four losses. Two of the four losses were overtimes. A two point loss to Greencastle and a four point loss to Whiteland in two overtimes completed the short loss column. The county championship was won with a victory over Danville 48-27, and a one point win against Brownsburg 42-41.

Mid-State Championship

Coach Dana Greene's Quakers ended the season with an 11-9 record. Four of those nine losses were by four or less points, including a one point sectional loss. Jason Ellis and Mark Galloway were the team's captains. Both captains received all conference honors along with junior Bob Roberts. The three all conference players also received other team honors. Jason Ellis take best defense honors; Bob Roberts received the mental attitude award; MVP honors went to Mark Galloway along with an appointment to the Indianapolis News all sectional team. Even though the team suffered a disappointing first round sectional loss to Cascade, the team brought home the Mid-State Conference title.

Strong support from the bench assists the team in a 57-54 victory over Greenwood.

Long Season Better Than Even

The first year for reserve softball proved very successful for Coach Nancy McMains. The team concluded with a 9-2 season, winning seven consecutive games before suffering their first defeat. The defeat by Sheridan was followed by two more wins before losing the final season game to Zionsville.

The varsity team, led by Coach Jay Clapp, finished an 11-9 season. Four victories began their season, including a first game score of 25-3 against Cloverdale. At the halfway mark the team had only lost two, but the record suffered late in the season. A first round 10-2 sectional loss to Tri-West ended the season. Captaining the team were Jenny Hughes and Kathy McGary, who was also the team's offensive player. Tiffany Summers claimed the pitching award. Mental attitude winner Kim Shelley and MVP Stacy Winters also contributed greatly. All conference recognition was given to Jenny Hughes, Alana Looker, Kathy McGary, and Stacey Winters.

Coach Rob Rigdon's reserve baseball team competed well, especially at the beginning of the season. After battling to a 10-10 tie with Ben Davis in the season opener, victories were claimed in the next three contests. At the mid season Whiteland tourney, the Quakers suffered a 1-2 loss to Greenwood's Woodmen. The second season resulted in two victories, two rain outs and five losses. Two of the losses were one run contests in extra innings.

Varsity baseball resulted in a 13-10 record. Several rain outs affected the number of games played, but the Quakers were not consistent with wins and losses. A tough one run loss to Ben Davis began the season. Alternating wins and losses for the first few games, a four game streak was followed by four losses. Coach Steve Wood and Assistant Coach Planker led the team to another four game winning streak immediately preceding the sectional, but Decatur defeated the Quakers in the opening round by a 7-13 score. Team awards were presented to Josh Hanlon for low ERA; Ethan Hooper, mental attitude; and Jeff Ebarb for four years participation, highest batting average, and MVP.

Getting off the line at the start of the race are Quaker runners Brenda Taber, Angie McDaniel, Andrea Wood and Kathy Wright.

A disappointing 2-8 season was the end result for the Lady Quaker track team. Four consecutive losses preceded the team's first win against Whiteland 48-30. Four more losses led to a second and final victory over Beech Grove 75-43. Coach Chuck Muston and Assistant Coach Kris Weisbach coached a team with no senior members. Tourney competitions were strong with the girls falling second in Mid-State action by three-points. Conference champions included Lucy Bednarek in the 400 meter dash; Beth Reynolds in the 800 meter run; Lucy Bednarek, Beth Reynolds, Nikki Shore and Libby Yell in the 1600 meter relay with a new school record. In county competition the girls finished third with Beth Reynolds taking the 800 meter blue ribbon. Sectional competition placed the girls ninth with high jumpers Nikki Shore finishing fourth and Heather Sneed finishing first. Both girls competed in regionals.

— Undefeated Regular Season & Two Titles —

A perfect 10-0 record, as well as conference and county championships, brought recognition to the boys' track team. Coach Dave Teany and assistants Mr. Howard Conley and Mr. Brian Pelkey saw their team dominate other teams with the margin of victory ranging from a low of 48 points to a 115 point difference. The team was led by Andy Watts, mental attitude winner, and MVP Scott Helms. In Mid-Stat competition, champions included Mike Morris in discus; Jeff Hartman in shot; Brian Mills in high jump; Lloyd Edwards in low hurdles; the 400 meter relay team of Edwards, Hammond, Laubacher, and Watts; and the 1600 meter relay team of Galloway, Hammond, Helms, and Schafhauser. In their first place county showing, winners were Jeff Hartman in shot; Scott Helms in the 400; Mike Morris in discus; Lloyd Edwards in low hurdles; and the 1600 relay team of Hammond, Helms, Schafhauser and Watts. In an eighth place sectional finish, Scott Helms won the 400 meter. The 1600 meter relay team advanced to regionals by placing third. At regionals the relay team broke the school record by nearly two seconds and advanced to state competition.

Spring Weather Dampens Season

Girls' Tennis. Front: Tracy Wright, Greta Kottke, Laura Schaible, Angie Freije, Ryan Dodds, Jessica Gillespie, Stacy Stewart, Melissa Kuner, Amy Paulson, Stacy Wubbolding, Brooke Rather, Tami Jagers, Alex Barile, Stacie Coulombe, Coach Wilhelm.

Laura Schaible, the team's mental attitude winner, stretches to return the ball with a strong backhand.

The season started with a rain out, but the opening match was a 3-2 victory over Danville. A defeat to Whiteland dampened the enthusiasm of Coach Beth Wilhelm's Lady Quakers, but the girls came back in their third match to defeat the Mooresville Pioneers. This proved to be the second and final victory, although many later matches were close contests. The girls competed in Mid-State Conference play to a seventh place position. In county competition, the girls rallied to a third place finish. Team recognition went to MVP Tracy Wright, a senior, and sophomore Laura Schaible for mental attitude.

Sixth Place Regional Finish

Coach Peter's 15-0 team was led by four seniors, three who had been four year members. Dave Abplanalp, Mike Daum and Matt Rhoden completed their fourth season representing PHS. Dave Abplanalp was also the team's MVP. The fourth senior member was J.T. Wubbolding who took mental attitude honors. The team performed well throughout the season. In tournament competition, the Quaker golfers placed first in the Mid-State Conference. In county competition the team took second place. At the Fox Cliff sectionals the team placed third with a score of 330. They were defeated by Martinsville with a 318 and Greencastle, who also had a 300, but in match play, their fifth man's score gave them the second place finish. In regional competition the team placed sixth with a 344 at Valle Vista Country Club.

Academic Teams

All Around Team Wins State!

All Around State Champions. Richard McWilliams, Becky Miles, Craig Gummer, Asra Ali, Angie Kalb, Dr. Ray Saxman.

Plainfield's academic spellbowl team competed in the area meet on October 16. The meet was held at PHS with twenty-two teams competing.

For the academic superbowl teams many hours of preparation were required. The work paid off at the Hendricks County meet on March 14. The social studies team placed third, the math team took second, and the English team won the county championship. At regionals on April 16, the math and all around teams both placed first; the science, social studies, English and fine arts teams all received seconds. At state competition, the math team placed fourth. All around team members Asra Ali, Craig Gummer, Angie Kalb, Richard McWilliams, and Becky Miles brought home the first place honors for the state championship.

Fourth Place Math Team. Bryan Andrews, Becky Miles, Richard McWilliams, Jill Helphinstine, Curt Dennis, Ms. Sprowl.

While course requirements remained the same, many changes swept through the English Department. Most noticeable was the new textbooks in both literature and grammar — colorful but heavy to carry from the locker to the classroom! Journalism and drama activities were under successful new direction; debaters capably represented PHS at area meets, and the yearbook staff churned out the 1991 copy of Silhouettes. The Writer's Gallery regularly went underwater, while research English students kept the library overdue lists long. But to facilitate their research, the library added a new network program that enabled students throughout the building access to various resources at the touch of the keyboard.

The foreign language teachers, like the English teachers, worked with new text books and, consequently, a new curriculum. Class rooms were relocated to the 300 area from the 900 hallway. The teachers weren't always pleased with this relocation as faulty heating and air conditioning, along with a leaky roof, made conditions difficult at best.

Activities varied from learning verb conjugations to skits and foreign games. The language clubs lived up to their reputation of choosing dining out as their favorite field trip. French, Spanish, and German restaurants in Indianapolis were visited by hungry Quakers. Performances were also popular pastimes. Even ice skating was part of the extracurricular activity for one group.

Social Studies

Move to 700 Hallway Creates Change

Working together on a social studies worksheet are Jim Payton and J. D. Moore.

The move of the social studies department from the 300 hall to the 700 hall kept students rushing through corridors in the five minute passing period. Plagued by heat and mildew, history classes braved the seasonal changes; some even were able to see the outside for the first time in years, since several of the rooms had windows. Departmental course offerings were basically unchanged from the required government and economics classes and options such as sociology and geography. Field trips to Indianapolis courts and area hospitals and even Detroit Diesel Allison were highlights for teachers and students both. CHAP, which met far away in room 140, successfully participated in a Constitutional contest at DePauw University.

Outside the Marion County Superior Court are Steve Ferguson, Mari Swinford, Ben Collins, Dee Ann Welch, Melayna Fillmore, and Julie Jackson.

Creations of many kinds were developed by art students and the works were presented in the display case across from the cafeteria. Sculpting, metalsmithing, weaving and ceramics were only a few of the activities along with painting and drawing. Water colors and oils alike were created, along with pen and inks. Students worked hard to create original works. Some PHS students had works selected for a display at Eli Lilly. Students were guests of the company for a tour of the facility and a luncheon. Another art project included volunteers to help design and select graphics for the building. Money was appropriated from state money awarded to PHS for improved ISTEP scores to improve the appearance of hallways and the cafeteria.

Band

Very Successful Marching Season

With jazz, concert, pep, and marching bands, Mr. Brad Roberts kept busy. Local parades, home football games, and fall competitions kept them busy. On September 22, the band placed first of ten bands at the Center Grove Cavalcade of Bands. Late in September, a first division rating at the ISSMA district contest sent the band on to regionals. There a first division rating did not qualify them for state. At the ISSMA Solo and Ensemble Contest at De-Pauw, forty-one gold and two silver medals were awarded to PHS; twenty-two musicians went to state. The winter guard placed fifth in three separate competitions. In April the concert band received a first division rating at the ISSMA Organizational Contest at Greenwood High School. The season ended with the spring concert and the final performance on graduation day.

Four choirs, concert choir, varsity choir, girls' ensemble and Belles et Beaux, worked long and hard hours under the direction of Mr. Sims. The hard work paid off at competition time. On January 26, the ISSMA Solo and Ensemble Contest at DePauw yielded twenty-three first division ratings including perfect scores by Mike Hartley, Jim Rinehart, and Kelley Spanton. Eight of nine ensembles received first division ratings with two of those groups receiving perfect marks. Four piano solos resulted in three firsts and one second place award. In April, the concert choir received a superior rating in their division at Greenwood High School. The Belles et Beaux had a successful season, placing sixth out of eighteen show choirs at the March competition in Sullivan, Illinois. The highlight of the competitive season was a fourth place finish at the Showstoppers National Show Choir Invitational in Chicago. The year concluded with the second Dessert Fiesta and the annual Sensations show in May. A combined choir performed at graduation under the direction of Heath Helgason.

Students in the math department were enrolled in such classes as computer programming and college algebra. At the other end of the scale were general math and math lab.

In science, classes ranged from geology to physics. The science research class excelled in the Central Science and Engineering Fair including eight honorable mentions. Special awards were presented to five Quakers. Regional awards included place awards for Todd Biggerstaff, Tony Jordan, Kyle Lansberry, and Josh Wieland, who competed in the international division in Orlando, Florida.

If the future plans included a business career, Plainfield's curriculum provided many areas of study. Typing and computer keyboarding provided basic office skills but also assisted students with computer requirements for other classes. Computers were also used in computer accounting. Basic business skills such as completing taxes, insurance and balancing a checkbook were available as well.

For the more committed business students, the DECA program provided classroom instruction as well as on the job training. The local DECA chapter participated in several programs. Local president Chad Jones led the group in Plainfield; he also held a District 8 West office, as did Matt Rhoden. Twenty-one marketing students competed in state competition. At the State Career Development Conference, Jennifer Miller and Ahmed Zwink placed third, allowing them to compete at the national convention in Denver, Colorado.

In the vocational department students with good imaginations designed products in graphic arts. An artistic eye was put to good use in photography or architectural design or woodworking. Auto shop and small appliance repair classes provided hands on work. The home economics department was called upon to prepare food for numerous occasions including a county principal's luncheon, numerous receptions, and senior citizens' luncheons. To demonstrate sewing ability, balloon shades and slip covers were created for a conference room. Child care classes involved many, including those girls who carried their flour sack babies with them for a week. Experience with actual children was possible in the new day care center.

SADD

Several Homecoming Activities

To visit the local schools and present an anti-drug rap message is a project performed by Ryan Schafhauser, Jonn Thompson, Plainfield police officer, Jamie Owens, Heath Helgason, Lucy Bednarek and Andy Watts.

SADD, Students Against Driving Drunk, met infrequently throughout the year, but the members found several worthwhile projects. Homecoming was the busiest time. Under the direction of Mrs. Joann McCormick and Mrs. Justine Thompson, SADD displayed a badly damaged vehicle that had been part of a drunk driving accident. The display also featured a skeleton driver and signs to remind students that drinking and driving don't mix. For the first time, SADD was represented in the homecoming parade. In October, SADD was nationally recognized with red ribbon week. Ribbons were distributed to students and teachers to promote a drug free school community. Other promotions that week included a bake sale, and a "put it in black and white" and "red, white and blue" day when students were asked to dress accordingly.

FCA

Monthly Meetings/Successful Food Drive

Todd Biggerstaff, Andy Watts, and Nikki Shore, along with Chris Ragan and Mr. Stacey Peters, collect canned foods from each classroom daily to determine the contest winner.

Considered to be one of the most active groups at PHS, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes met on a regular basis throughout the year. The meetings were small enough to be held in students' homes, usually once a month. Mr. Stacey Peters, Mrs. Beth Wilhelm and Mr. Mark Wilhelm provided the adult supervision while student leadership came from Lucy Bednarek, Todd Biggerstaff, and Andy Watts. Besides the monthly fellowship, FCA members were invited to various weekend retreats and conventions. The major project sponsored by FCA was a canned food drive in December. Approximately 1000 cans were collected for distribution to needy families. The organization concluded their active year with a picnic for members and their parents.

Honor Society

Several Service Projects Completed

One Honor Society project that meets with the approval of teachers and youngsters alike is the Halloween visit by Asra Ali and Todd Biggerstaff to discuss safety and distribute candy.

Led by Mrs. Gloria Bowman, the 1990-91 Honor Society was involved in a number of activities. In September's organizational meeting, officers Andy Hylton, Tony Jordan, Heath Helgason and Kyle Lansberry took over. Activities for their year began with Halloween as members dressed in costume and visited the kindergarten center and the elementaries to talk about Halloween safety and distribute treats. Thirteen new members were initiated in a November 20th evening service. During the action of Desert Storm, Honor Society created a patriotic display in the library windows with the names of PHS graduates serving overseas. At a community rally, president Andy Hylton represented the PHS Honor Society. Individual service by members included tutoring and tallying grocery receipts for the Computers in Education programs sponsored by Kroger and Marsh. Honor Society members also helped out on awards night.

For Student Council the year began with working open house. Homecoming involved new rules, the queen election, the parade, halftime activities, and the dance. On November 10-11, PHS Student Council members participated in the Council's State Convention at Brownsburg with about 1000 other students. On February 1st, PHS held their first winter homecoming featuring small floats on wagons, a funniest boy and girl contest, and a video dance. February 12 was the date for the second annual blood drive. The end of the year was dedicated to the election of new class officers and Student Council members.

NOTE: Students' class designations are based upon classification in the fall of 1990.

Left: Joe Montana, the San Francisco 49'ers quarterback, is the highest paid NFL quarterback and is the standard by which other quarterbacks are measured after the Super Bowl. Center: Becoming a four time winner is Rick Mears' accomplishments in the 1991 Indy 500. Right: Hitting the music scene big is Bell Biv DeVoe whose album Poison ranks high in the charts.

JANUARY 16, 1991

The Berlin Wall crumbled without bloodshed after dividing East and West Germany for decades. Nelson Mandela was freed from a South African prison after serving 27 years as a political prisoner. Mikhail Gorbachev introduced "Perestroika" and "Glasnost" as he made sweeping reforms across the Soviet Union. The Cold War came to an end as the relationship between the United States and the Soviet Union turned into one of cooperation.

The end of the eighties seemed to signal the end of conflict in many areas of the world. Although there were still some troubled spots around the globe, many looked to the nineties as a decade of peace and healing.

On August 2, 1990 Saddam Hussein of Iraq invaded Kuwait.

Saddam Hussein, whose name translates as "one who confronts" threatened the invasion on July 17. Our feelings of peaceful optimism disappeared as the person U. S. News and World Report magazine labeled "The World's Most Dangerous Man" sent 100,000 troops into Kuwait.

T O F R E E K U V

- Aug. 3, 1990. The United Nations Security Council denounces the attack on Kuwait and orders world-wide economic sanctions against Iraq.
- Only a few days after the brutal attack on Kuwait, Iraqi troops move toward Saudi Arabia's border.
- As a total of 28 nations come together, Operation Desert Shield is born. Allied forces include the U.S., Italy, England, Egypt, Kuwait, Saudi Arabia and Canada.
- Aug. 6, 1990. President Bush commits U.S. forces to the Saudi Arabian desert. Demonstrations in support of troop deployment to Saudi Arabia, and against it, fill streets in America and abroad.
- Aug. 28, 1990. After pleas are made from around the world, Saddam Hussein releases the women and children hostages he held.
- Nov. 29, 1990. The United Nations Security Council gives Saddam Hussein 47 days to unconditionally withdraw from Kuwait. This order sets the Jan. 15 deadline.
- Dec. 6, 1990. Saddam releases hundreds of Western hostages.
- Nineteen hours after the deadline, the night of Jan. 16, 1991, the liberation of Kuwait begins

- with massive air attacks on downtown Baghdad and occupied Kuwait. Operation Desert Shield becomes Operation Desert Storm.
- Hours after the war begins, in an attempt to break up the U.S. led coalition, Saddam releases his first Scud missiles at Tel Aviv, Israel.
- In Israel's defense, America quickly sends Patriot missiles to knock out the incoming Iraqi Scuds. The Patriot's performance proves to be exceptional.
- Two weeks into the war, Saddam Hussein violates The Third Geneva Convention by parading allied prisoners of war on television. The battered men make statements condemning Allied attacks on "peaceful Iraq."
- Feb. 2, 1991. Saddam torches oil fields and releases more than 6 million barrels of crude from Kuwaiti tankers and offshore terminals (12 times more than the Exxon Valdez spill) in a failing attempt to ward off an amphibious attack and endanger Saudi Arabia's water supply.
- Feb. 21, 1991. Soviet diplomats meet with Iraq's foreign minister, Tariq Aziz, in an effort to draw up a cease-fire proposal that meets the conditions of the United Nations Security Council.
- Feb. 22, 1991. President George Bush,

- reaffirming United Nations Security Council resolutions, gives Saddam Hussein less than 24 hours to get out of Kuwait or risk ground war.
- Feb. 23, 1991. The ground war attack to liberate Kuwait is launched. Over 20,000 Iraqis surrender in the first 36 hours of the confrontation.
- Feb. 25, 1991. An Iraqi Scud attack on Saudi Arabia kills 28 Americans and injures over 100.
- Feb. 26, 1991. Kuwaiti Government Officials declare Kuwait liberated.
- Feb. 27, 1991. President Bush orders a cease-fire exactly 100 hours after the beginning of the ground war assault. America suffers 292 casualties, 9 Americans become prisoners of war and 27 planes are lost. Of Iraq's 400,000 troops, 300,000 are taken from action, while 3,008 tanks and 140 planes are destroyed.

Operation Desert Storm was a war similar to wars of the past. Yet it was a war unlike any previous war. Operation Desert Storm added a new dimension to the term "war." Never before had there been laser-guided missiles; never before had women served in a military capacity on such a large scale; and never before had the United States gone into war with an all-volunteer force.

Because of the "smart" weapons being used in Operation Desert Storm, some called this the "Nintendo" war, while others referred to it as "Star Wars." In any case, the comparison was clear. This would be a war of sophisticated technology. The use of high-tech weapons would determine the victor.

The Apache AH-64 helicopter, the M-2 Bradley and the Abram tank all made their debut as a new generation of weaponry. The Apache brought with it the laser-guided Hellfire missile that illuminated targets with a laser beam before destroying them. The 20-foot-long Tomahawk missile (smart bomb), made with small jet engines and on-board computers, was said to have a mind of its own. Programmed by an inertial guidance system, the Tomahawk could fly over 500 miles per hour. By using sensors and gyroscopes to measure changes in direction, it could be fired from a ship or submarine 1,500 miles from its target and hit it with unnerving accuracy. The Patriot missile was said to be the backbone of defense artillery. Many doubted the capabilities of the Patriot; the thought of a bullet hitting another bullet was simply unimaginable. However, like the other sophisticated weaponry used, the Patriot proved exceptional.

This conflict was unlike any other in recent history for more reasons than just the use of high tech equipment and the presence of women in military roles. Perhaps the most unique thing about Operation Desert Storm was the use of the National Guard and Reserves. Many joined these organizations for patriotic reasons, while others joined to help pay for a college education or gain job experience. It was fairly safe to assume that few ever imagined that they would end up involved in a Middle-East war.

The most frightening aspect of the conflict with the Iraqi troops was the constant threat of chemical and biological warfare. No other leader in recent history had been as threatening in this respect as Saddam Hussein. Throughout the conflict military forces and civilians scrambled to get into gas masks as air raid sirens sounded. Iraqi missiles were frequently aimed at heavily populated military and civilian locations in Saudi Arabia and Israel. Precedent had shown that Hussein would not hesitate to use chemical and biological warheads.

While facing this threat, the troops involved in Operation Desert Storm had the support of the entire country. And while many may have questioned the motives behind the conflict, none questioned the valor of those who served.

THE IMPACT OF THE WAR

The impact of Iraq's invasion of Kuwait was first felt by Americans at the gas pumps. Gasoline prices skyrocketed immediately after the invasion. The inflated prices were only temporary, however, and by the beginning of the ground war on February 23, gasoline prices averaged five cents a gallon less than the day before the invasion.

As the days dragged on with Iraqi forces still in Kuwait, people began to fear more than high fuel prices. When President Bush committed U.S. forces to the Middle East, the conflict hit home. Saddam Hussein had not only invaded Kuwait, but he had also invaded American homes. Men and women who had never imagined going to battle were sent to the Saudi Arabian desert. Suddenly this was our war. Our fathers, mothers, husbands, wives, siblings and friends were leaving the safety of home and traveling to the Middle East. Children were being left with relatives and friends as both parents were assigned to Operation Desert Shield. Reservists and National Guard members were being called upon to take an active role in the effort to free Kuwait.

As more and more civilians were being sent to the Middle East, we remembered hearing about the draft during the Vietnam War. If this conflict dragged on would the draft be reinstated? Would we be called on to go to war half a world away?

We held our breath with every news report. Months dragged by as the world waited for economic sanctions to force Iraqi troops out of Kuwait. We waited anxiously as the January 15 deadline passed. Just as the generation before us remembers JFK's assassination, we remember where we were on January 16 when we heard that the war had started. We watched in horror as Iraqi television broadcast footage of brutalized allied POWs. We stared in disbelief as the ecological balance of the Middle East was deliberately destroyed by an oil spill and oil fields that had been set ablaze. We were constantly amazed by reports of atrocities that were reported by eyewitnesses from Kuwait.

While we worried for our loved ones and friends in the Middle East, an amazing thing happened here at home. Patriotism reached an all-time high. American flags were everywhere. The country was covered with many yellow ribbons, our symbol that our thoughts and prayers were with our fellow countrymen in the Saudi desert. Not everyone agreed that we should be involved in the Middle East conflict, but nearly everyone supported the men and women who were part of the allied coalition.

The impact of Desert Storm will be with us for years to come. We will remember the waiting, the fear, the sorrow and the patriotism. We will remember how it felt to be part of the most serious conflict since Vietnam. We will also hope that this will be the only war story that we will have to tell our children.

AMERICA WELCOMES BACK THE HEROES OF DESERT STORM

On February 27, 1991, President Bush ordered a cease-fire exactly 100 hours after the beginning of the ground war assault. Kuwait was liberated. The mission of the allied coalition was complete.

The American people are proud of their military. It was time to concentrate on the safe return of the men and women of Operation Desert Storm. The removal of U. S. forces from the Gulf was predicted to be complete within six months.

My Thoughts About Desert Storm

What were your hopes and fears when you heard about the beginning of Operation Desert Storm?

Do you have any relatives or friends serving in the military?

Has the war brought people together in this country?

How has the war affected you?

What is your prediction for the future of this area?
